Acknowledgements

This study would not have been possible without the commitment, vision, and hard work of many people. WestEd greatly appreciates the support from the California Children and Families Commission, especially Carmen Padilla, Contract Liaison. Special thanks to Michael Jett, Director, California Department of Education, Child Development Division for believing in this work, the focus group liaisons who ensured that the voices of local communities were heard and represented throughout this report, and the hundreds of parents, child care providers, specialized service providers, policymakers, and advocates who made this research possible to make child care more accessible and successful for young children with disabilities and special needs. To the staff and consultants at WestEd, I thank you.
