Join educators and school leaders for WestEd’s Culturally Responsive Instructional Strategies (CRIS) summer institute. This virtual professional learning opportunity is designed to develop school-based staff awareness on culturally responsive teaching and principles of brain-based learning.

Session objectives include:

- Recognize how culture, privilege, and identity shows up in classroom environments
- Engage in culturally responsive and brain-based instructional tasks
- Plan and apply new learning to professional practice

Register now

Registration Link: tinyurl.com/CRIS-WestEd
Registration deadline: July 16, 2021
Price: $99/person
Location: Zoom

Facilitators

Bejanae Kareem, EdS
Education Program Associate
Talent Development & Diversity

Cindy Caldwell, EdM
Education Program Associate
Talent Development & Diversity